SUMMARY

I am a Full-Stack Developer with experience in building interactive, responsive, and user-focused web applications. I work with React.js, Next.js, Tailwind CSS, TypeScript, and Express.js to develop both frontend and backend features. I completed training and an internship at PT DumbWays Indonesia Teknologi, where I gained hands-on experience in UI development, API creation, and system integration. I am open to new opportunities and collaboration in building efficient and impactful digital solutions.
